

Multiracial America: An Emerging Voice

Multiracial America: An Emerging Voice Click here to view the the multimedia content at UMD's News21!"People who identify as multiracial make up the fastest-growing demographic in the country--a shift that could have far-reaching social and political impact. These pages examine what it means to identify as more than one race in this country. We conceived the stories as four pieces of a puzzle– each representing a different dimension of this project. When put together, the pieces tell part of the story of multiracial America: